HAPPY BIRTHDAY FIRELIGHT!!!!

Fred's Father-in-law, StarFire's Grandfather passed away yesterday. Our condolences and love to you and your family.

They all give you Their love. Please receive my peace.

Father said; A very happy afternoon to you all! My love for all of you is now even greater. Would you like to know why? You put me first in your lives. Your prayer lives have increased in love and depth. You are not afraid to tell me everything and I appreciate your candor. I enjoy your honesty and how open your hearts are now as you pray and just speak to me throughout your day. For some of you this was a difficult task. Many of you have now mastered it and some of you still struggle. I will draw all of you closer to me as you allow me to come closer to your heart.

Well now, where should I start? The past few months have seen many changes in the world, in the team, welcome Sydney, and in your hearts. And yet you have not faltered in your faith. I have been preparing you for all of these changes and you as a team are now almost ready to move forward with my plan. When Sydney and Maddy are fully trained I will start to share more details with you as to what my plan is for you and how it will unfold. Please be patient.

Many conversations have taken place between the Apostle Orlofski, Supplanter, LightStar, Brilliance and Tranquility. He understands now what it is that all of you do for me. Well he is trying to fully understand how it is that all of you will fit into the new church. Yes I said new church. The New Apostolic church will be changed into something new. The doctrine will always stay the same but the hearts must change and accept all that is coming. Many will leave you have been told this. But many more new souls will be added.

The greatest concern the current leaders of the church have is that there will not be any brothers to help complete the great task of bringing my Son's Bride home. This is where ALL of you come is. Hmmm looks like I am sharing before all the training is complete. No I am not getting senile in my seasoned years. Ha-ha. It matters not to Me the gender of my servants. It is through this process and team that I have molded all of your hearts and changed you from powerless humans to powerful healers, counselors and slayers of evil.

To the women on my Son's team I now address you. For the first time in the history of this church, women now play an important role. My Son Supplanter has told you that in time some of you ladies will be given ministries. I confirm that for you now. You have all been given the heart of a Priest. A Priest is an intercessor of the soul. You are all doing that now. You bring the concerns of your charges before me. You plead their cases to me and you defend and fight for them. This is what all Priests should be doing and yet this lacks within the hearts of my current servants. It is by this teams examples of faith that all will know you and the works you have done for Me. I am so very proud of all of you.

Stay strong, stay close to my Son. Spend time with Jesus and the other angels. The time is growing shorter than the world will even know. All the injustice and evil that is taking place is all part of my end time plan. Do not get lost in the noise of it all. You are all wiser than most when it comes to the future and what will take place.

Supplanter and Jesus will spend time together to help define what Revelations really holds and defines for the future. He will share this information with all of you. And if he tells you that you have to give him a dollar you let me know!

Now please accept my love and gratitude for all you have done for Me and will do for me. I love you all and hold you in My heart every moment.

Any questions or comments please?

Souls for Satan's army;

This experience began while LightStar was meditating about a month ago. During the meditation, she was taken to a place where she saw Middle East children being beheaded by ISIS forces. LightStar witnessed the children's deaths, watched their souls cross over, and saw the souls being handed over to demons. LightStar could not see any angels anywhere.

(This was very concerning, as usually a soul is ushered into eternity by an angel.) Yes most of the time. I have witnessed souls being dragged to Eternity by demons as well.

LightStar called Supplanter to discuss the vision, and Supplanter recommended that they pray for these souls until he could speak with Father. He would give her additional information as it became available.

LightStar shared her impression with her husband, and it was then that she realized that an army for the Dark Side was being assembled. These children were being brain washed by the abductor demons; the anti-God beliefs that had been held by their ancestors and families were corroborated by the kidnapper demons – there is no loving God, because if there was He would not allow this situation to occur.

During the September conference call, Blazar reported on a program which described the circumstances surrounding a "haunted home." The "spiritual expert" in this program explained that the souls involved were being trapped by hoodoo magic.

As Blazar spoke, LightStar was shown that these souls were trapped there by demons. She was then permitted to see (via 3D map view) all of those souls as they were taken to a "military main base." The band of souls was this corps of demons contribution to the "force." None of the souls showed any emotion when they were transported and delivered to the base - no terror, no emotion, no fight, just blank-faced submission. LightStar was reminded that a soul has free will. God will not interfere with a soul's decision to join forces with evil. LightStar shared this new info with Supplanter, and Supplanter said he would speak with Father. LightStar felt that Blazar was somehow connected to the vision but not sure how.

Here is a recap of the TV program Blazar saw:

"Before the last team call started, we had some free time, so I was conveyed a story from a TV show that deals with paranormal activities, possessions, and hauntings. This show centers around the activities of a paranormal team, a retired NYPD detective, and a medium. This group works with families to find out what transpired throughout the house's history, specifically investigating homes where murders or deaths occurred. The featured family must have lived in the South; during the antebellum period, the house was part of a plantation which had slave quarters. There was a slave who was a practitioner of Hoodoo, an African practice of Black magic. (Voodoo is a form of this practice which descends from the Carrabin.) This slave was very powerful and would enslave the souls of its victims. This enslavement would increase the slave's strong black magic power. This slave was angry with the family that moved in. The investigation team's initial advice was to destroy the house, burn it, and move away. The family stated they were not interested in losing the house to a ghost. The next solution was to find a living practitioner of Hoodoo so the practitioner could absorb the ghost powers and remove its presence from the house. The investigation team stated that it was the only way to remove this power from the home."

LightStar called Brilliance to share the new information. As LightStar relayed the information, Brilliance saw soldiers lined up, guns being handed to them one-by-one from a military commander. The line of soldiers and artilleries was endless. Brilliance encouraged LightStar to speak with Blazar to see if more information would become available. Blazar was committed to study the Book of Revelations to see if he could find additional information.

Supplanter spoke with Father regarding the visions, and Father said that all we can do is pray for these souls. Father confirmed that this "soul militia" is being assembled and prepared for battle in the end time. (We can't kill souls. Impressions indicate that these souls will be put on the front line – a "human" barrier – between Satan's forces and God's forces.)

We now Liberate 200,000 realms a day. Service for the Departed is November 2. Please be mindful of your heart during that week that leads up to the service.

You are a healer (who Father named you to be) 24/7, not who you used to be as a person. I need you to be mindful of your conduct and actions. You represent Father and you represent me.

In the prayer tonight I will give you the authority in Jesus' Name to remove any curse. They are more prominent now than ever before.
