

Team Meeting notes – Friday, November 13 at 6 PM CST

Guardians that attended: Atmos, Blazar, ArrowStar, LightStar, Brilliance, Nucleous, Tricous, Tranquility, Quasar, and Triland

Excused: Luminance

Absent:

I give you my peace.

Happy Friday the 13TH!!! The origin of fears surrounding Friday the 13th is unclear. There is reportedly no written evidence of Friday the 13th superstition before the 19th century, but superstitions surrounding the number 13 date back to at least 1700 BC.

Father said; Dear Team Triland,

I first would like to wish you all a special blessing today. Yes a blessing to start with. Why you may ask? It is because you all need it and deserve it. Today is known as Friday the 13th. This superstitious day carries much negativity and evil with it. For all of you it is a day of blessing. We are not superstitious because we know what our future has in it. There is no fear, no worry and there will be very few surprises.

I wish to speak of all of your family members and their struggles. They will be fine. I have allowed many things to happen within their lives to teach them to come to ME and to not lean on you as much. I am trying to build them up for the future as well. They too play a part in my plan. They must be strong as well. Please share this with them. I am always here for them too. But sometimes they come to you so that they may get a "quick fix" to their problems. Please encourage them in the future to come to Me.

I now welcome Luminance back to the team. We will shortly in time have ten active Guardians once ArrowStar and Luminance are trained. That will leave two more slots open. One will be my Son's woman of his dreams, and the other a new teammate. Just as Jesus had 12 to serve with Him so shall Triland. This is not new to you. I share this with you because I keep my word. Many years ago I told my Son that he would have 12 to serve with him and through these years many have come and gone. Once the last Guardian is in place I am confident that this team will become a solidified core for my Son to work with. You really do not know the heartache my Son has suffered under because of the team. But I will say also that you do not know the joys he has experienced because of all of you! He loves all of you very much and tells me often how proud he is of you and how thankful he is that I gave all of you to him, to serve together. This is the place where we all virtually hug each other. BIG HUG NOW!

We are coming up on the holidays; The Thanksgiving and Christmas seasons. Usually there is much more joy during these times. Satan steps up his efforts to squelch these seasons. All of you will stand fast and prevent anything that you see and find. My gift to all of you through these seasons is more peace and much more joy.

I know all of you are weary. So many things are happening within your own lives and families. Many struggles are occurring within your hearts and souls.

I am thankful that all of you will have a few moments to share with your teammates today some of what you are personally go through.

As my boy said, it is through this sharing that all of you will grow closer together. I know that when one of you reaches out and asks the team for help all of you stand up and support each other in prayer.

You all need each other for the future. You all need to lean on each other more. I need all of you to stop judging one another and allowing Satan to break you apart. You are stronger than he is. You are wiser than he is. Stop acting so human and be the Guardian, become the name I have given you. Look at the information my Son gave you about your name. Are you that? Can you be all that I know you will be? Will you continue to allow me to shape and mould you to be what I need for the future? Or will you fight Me? Maybe my Boy never told you this, but I always get my way. I just thought I would interject a little more humor now. It is good to see you smile.

I will remind all of you once again that never in any time period before has a group such as you ever been chosen to carry out this highest task. I am not feeding your egos; I am filling your hearts with responsibility.

Some of you ask Me, why me? How can I do all of this for You? I do not want to disappoint you Father. My beloved Guardians I chose you as I have said before because I know you will not fail Me nor disappoint Me. If you do as I ask of you and you trust Me and help my Son complete this task. Wait. I will say this as well. If you do not leave ME and my Son then I will always give you everything you will need to complete this task and come home. Okay? Are we all on board now? We cannot afford to lose one of you. The time is short and my Boy is going to be very busy in the coming months with work, school and training Guardians. Do not tell him I shared this with you. Yes big smiles for all of you.

You all are very special to me, precious as I have told you. Yes this meeting was a pep-talk. This will be our last meeting for the 2015 year. I want all of you to walk into 2016 with confidence, love for all of mankind and the assurance that WE will always walk together and work together until the last soul is found and I send Jesus to claim His Bride. I need all of you to help with that. I will start to give you more information about my plan next year. You will know more so that you will be prepared. Now feel the love I have for all of you. Enjoy these wonderful Seasons! I now fill your hearts with joy!

Does anyone have any questions or comments?

Maddie Sigg – Luminance is back on the team. I am glad she is back! I did all of this to shake the team.

It's Team sharing time. I'll go first.

Triland – 3 interviews with same company, waiting on a 4th with the VP. I was offered a part-time Job with Home Depot 3 weeks ago, no hours as of now. They are waiting on my criminal background check. Starting college in January

Quasar – Shared from a book: God calling

Brilliance – She has a new job, learning and travelling a lot. She needs help praying for her “charges”.

Tricous – He is part of a great work team now. We personally make a difference in people’s lives.

Nucleous – Satan paid him a visit. He got a healing from Blazar. Found a set of books in his 6th chakra on how to be a better Nucleous.

LightStar – Closing business. She is having personal struggles at home and physical health problems.

Blazar – Is having financial struggles and problems at work with boss. His family has many issues at their local congregation.

ArrowStar – Has better experience in service now. The healing helped change him for the better.

Atmos – transition team and merger of the four congregations. He has seen political and nasty thing happen in the church’s leadership. Struggling with the services. He is not getting much. Pray for his uncles.

Tranquility - She is ill so I will share for her.

This is our last meeting for the year. So our next meeting is on Friday, January 8 at 6 PM CST.

Prayer – Pray for Niha.