I give you my peace.

I would like to welcome Jess to the team.

Father said; Dear Team. Many things have come about recently that have opened all of your eyes. You are slowly starting to see the souls as I see them. You are realizing that when you judge a soul you are judging Me. Many of you have even stopped yourself from entertaining thoughts that you used to harbor. Negative thoughts about your "neighbors" per say. I am very proud of all of you. You are growing into the Guardians I need you to be.

What shall we now talk about? Let us see... For over three years now we have been having these monthly meetings. Each meeting contains something different, something timely. In the past some of you took these meeting for granted you did not really appreciate what was being discussed. Well now all of you do not take anything for granted. You can now feel the sense of urgency that is pushing all of you to help complete the task I gave to my Son. And no it is not an insurmountable task! It can be handled and completed by the correct number of souls I have chosen. Yes, you are all numbered amongst that group of souls.

I know at times you feel that you are ineffective. That maybe you do not make much of, or any kind of a difference. May I tell you that love is quiet, it is peaceful and it is patient. The lives you touch at times will not show anything within the moment you share with them. But in time it will show its self. Some of those who you spend time with are so lost, have such a broken faith that they are not even aware of the fact that you are healing them and that you are carrying them to ME. And that you will continue to help them no matter how long it takes. And you do this simply because you love Me and their soul. Oh there is so much that is coming where all of you will be "the difference" in so many lives. You really have no idea!

Can you now see why I have put all of you through the tests that you have all overcome? All of you can now relate to every soul that will cross your path. And I will personally engineer these souls' life and path of faith to cross yours when the time is right. We do not have much time left. My Son will be announced by the Chief Apostle next June. Yes, I will make sure that this happens. The Apostle Orlofski has been struggling with the idea of who my Son is for long enough. Time is of the essence! I will now have to complicate his life to bring him around to have a discussion with Triland. No I will not hurt him. I am merely encouraging him to have the conversation I wanted him to have a year ago. Wait now and watch. Yes, please pray for Karl's strength and understanding.

The team is now almost complete. We have room for one more Guardian and then the team is complete. Pray for LightStream. I have been moving her heart to accept my Son's offer to come back and be a part of this wonderful team.

I will continue to move the hearts of this entire planet to accept my Son next year. I would encourage all of you to pray the same as well. Together we will bring the bride home. Be strong, be vigil and be courageous. I will continue to give you strength through the body and blood of Jesus. It is very important that you are in the services from this point forward. And yes even though I know some of you struggle with certain ministers and some of the, I will call "shenanigans" that take place in the congregation it does not negate the fact that you need to have your sins forgiven and receive the Holy Communion. I am very aware of everything that is going on within the church. My Son and I have had conversations about some of the things that I would like to see changed. Everything in time. For now, please be patient with your brother's and sister's they do not know as much as you do. All of you will teach them about what you know currently and what is to come in the future. Please know I love and support all of you.
