Chief Guardians in attendance: Atmos, ArrowStar, Brilliance, Tricous, Tranquility, Quasar, Blazar, StarLight, Nucleous and Triland.

Excused: LightStar

Absent: Luminance

I give you my peace.

Father said; My dear team Triland. First of all, I would like to share with you that my Son has finally met the woman of His dreams. If you have been paying attention the name "StarLight" was placed after Lauren's name in many of the emails sent out recently. Yes, she is StarLight. I can tell you that I have already given her many responsibilities. The biggest one to date is all of Eternity. I have removed that from my Son and have given it to StarLight. She will take care of them. Triland will love and care for mankind in the flesh and Starlight will love and care for mankind in the spirit.

She has been given the keys to Hell and death as well. She has already begun to work closely with the Chief Apostle Streckeisen and Peter Rybak. She will be taken into realms that no Brother or Sister has ever been allowed to enter into and teach. I have unlocked many gifts that she will only be using in Eternity. Her responsibilities will also include becoming the second in command of the team. My Son sent out the team structure. Please review it.

These two will share a love that no other two human beings will ever share. When people see them together they will see the love that they share because it is pure. It is born out of My heart. Oh by the way, have I ever in the past talked about my Son's help-mate? I have not, because up until now StarLight never existed. My plan is now going to move forward rapidly.

My Son's announcement will happen in June 2017. We all have a year now to prepare and ready our hearts for all of the changes that will take place. All of you will be put into a managerial position in time. You will all be called from this point forward, "Chief Guardians". In time other Guardians will be added and they will report to you. The core is the only group that will be referred to as Chief Guardians.

I appreciate how all of you have accepted many changes in the past. The three tasks I gave to my Son will never change. I need all of you to stand strong on these three tasks. Understand the Apostles doctrine, you will be defending it.

I give all of you a special peace and strength now. I know that many of you have been struggling with financial, family and health issues. I will change these situations in the coming days and you all will feel secure within all of these areas.

I will also ask one more thing of all of you. For many years I have told my Son to remain silent, to never defend himself and to just suffer quietly against the harm that mankind speaks against him.

If you are approached, or hear of someone slandering my Son I would ask all of you to step up and defend Him. Never will you proclaim Him as My second Son. I speak of the horrible rumors that abound about Him. Please set these souls straight because in time they will answer to Me for all that they say against Him.

I am a just, righteous and yet a forgiving God. My love does not change because someone speaks ill of another. I wish everyone would actually see my Son and all of you the way that I see you, and in time they all will.

Now stay the course and as always know how much I love and support you daily.
